

We want YOU!

Creative Weblogging is a high-class blog media network situated in Palo Alto, California – in the heart of sunny Silicon Valley.

We schedule and develop online campaigns for our clients and take over the operative implementation. For supporting our customer service team we are searching from now an

Intern (m/f) Sales/Marketing

Your main tasks:

- Preparation and attendance of acquisition tasks
- Independent support of projects and clients
- Support of our affiliate partners
- Investigation and analyse of potential clients
- Preparation of presentations and proposals
- Scheduling and implementation of campaigns

Our requirements:

- Completed main study period (business studies, commercial information technology or alike)
- Affinity for Online-Marketing as well as technical know-how linked with
- Negotiation skill, amusement in selling and consulting
- Firm exposure to MS Office, especially Power Point and Excel
- Self dependent and results-oriented function
- Strong communicative skills and high engagement
- Energy, patience, and ambition
- Excellent English skills

Beside of the nice area our company is located we offer you a diversified occupation in a young, friendly and tanned team. Please send your application documents to Sonja Schweigert: Sonja@creative-weblogging.com